

Ministry of Education and Science
Federal State Educational Institution of Higher Education
IRKUTSK STATE TECHNICAL UNIVERSITY

REVIEW

The department of "Nanotechnologies and metallurgy" of Karaganda State Technical University trains bachelors and masters for metallurgical industry in the country, skillfully combining the educational and scientific activities, achieving high performance. The teaching staff of the department is highly qualified, they study present day methods of teaching, combined with classic techniques used in the field of interactive educational technology of nanomaterials, metallurgical technologies; carry out active research work of students, the defense of dissertations. Availability of modern scientific equipment for conducting research projects and participation in programs of international cooperation and involving leading foreign scientists is an important indicator of the department of "Nanotechnology and Metallurgy" the effectiveness. The department of "Non-Ferrous Metallurgy" believes that the professional level of the department staff meets all present day requirements of educational activities. It expresses its readiness to continue cooperation with the department of nanotechnology and metallurgy.

Head of the Department of

"Non-Ferrous Metallurgy"

Nina Vladimirovna Nemchinova