

HONEST YOUTH IS THE BETTER OF PROSPERITY OF THE COUNTRY

On September 2, 2019, teachers of the Department of the Assembly of the People of Kazakhstan and social and humanitarian disciplines held an “Hour of Honesty” for students, the purpose of which is the anti-corruption education of students.

Honesty is the basis for the formation of an anti-corruption model of consciousness and behavior.

A person with the quality of honesty avoids cheating in any environment without selfish motives.

A crucial role in the formation of an anti-corruption culture is played by youth. Only the introduction of anti-corruption standards of behavior from a very early age will eradicate this social evil. Therefore, youth organizations have a special place in promoting zero tolerance for corruption. Today, the use of corruption prevention mechanisms as an anti-corruption education allows reaching all educational institutions, state bodies, civil society and helps to increase the level of legal literacy and the formation of intolerance to any manifestations of corruption.

The main objective of such education is to instill the skills of anti-corruption behavior, explaining the rights and obligations, increasing the general legal literacy.

Without citizens having an anti-corruption culture, strong immunity to it, its public censure, it is impossible to achieve the desired result. Every Kazakhstani, every family should understand that the fight against corruption is the business of the whole society.

Whatever methods are taken to combat corruption, everything is pointless until each person begins to cultivate such qualities as honesty, patriotism, honesty from himself.
