

Round table on the topic: "We are for peace against corruption."

Every year on December 9, International Anti-Corruption Day is celebrated. On this day in 2003 The UN Convention against Corruption was opened for signature. Corruption as a social phenomenon continues to exist, at present, in almost all countries of the world, regardless of political development, including in Kazakhstan, it differs only in scale. Corruption has a negative impact on the political and public institutions of a democratic state and is a serious threat to the future development of the country. The fight against corruption has been identified as one of the main priorities of state policy in Kazakhstan.

On the eve of this date, a round table was organized and held at the College of Innovative Technologies of Karaganda Technical University on the topic: "We are for peace against corruption".

Purpose: to form students' own opinions and positions in relation to the fight against corruption, as well as a clear civic position based on the fight against corruption.

Students of our college prepared materials on the topic of our meeting.
